

Lessons 1 - 50
(Level A1)

Keep track of your progress.

How much time do you have available to study German? Bear in mind that you might have to add some additional hours for learning vocabulary, revising the concepts seen in class or for conversation classes. Monitor how many lessons you have already completed. You can check each course item once or twice depending on how many times you want to watch each video.

Goals:

- 1 lesson / week: 50 weeks (1 year)
- 2 lessons / week: 25 weeks (6 months)
- 3 lessons / week: 16.5 weeks (4 months)
- 4 lessons / week: 12.5 weeks (3 months)
- 5 lessons / week: 10 weeks (2.5 months)

I can complete ___ lessons per week. I will complete the first 50 lessons by _____.

1
2
3
4
5

26
27
28
29
30

6
7
8
9
10

31
32
33
34
35

11
12
13
14
15

36
37
38
39
40

16
17
18
19
20

41
42
43
44
45

21
22
23
24
25

46
47
48
49
50														